

The Basque tradition of the pinxtos taverna is a space where locals come together as a community to snack on small plates of pinxtos, tell stories, and enjoy a drink, specifically one of Jerez's best; the Sherry. Sherry is an incredibly versatile wine with food, and should be enjoyed in the true Iberian spirit - seated at the bar, surrounded by people, with shared, simple, delicious food.

From a delicate fino, to the richer expressions of the Sherry spectrum, linger over these drinks as you explore the menu.

SHERRY AND SHERRY-STYLE

60ml

Fino ("refined" in Spanish) is the driest and palest of the traditional varieties of sherry and Montilla-Moriles fortified wine. This fortified white wine is made of palomino grapes. It is biologically aged, under a layer of flor.

NV Fino, Bodegas Tradición (Jerez de la Frontera) 25

Manzanilla is a dry white fortified wine, almost identical to Fino sherry. The main difference is the location: Manzanilla can only be produced and matured around Sanlúcar de Barrameda, a town closer to the sea than Jerez.

Amontillado is a very unique wine due to its dual aging process: first under the veil of flor, typical of Fino and Manzanilla, followed by a period in which the flor disappears and the wine is exposed to oxidation.

60ml

Palo Cortado is a rare variety of sherry that is initially aged under flor to become a fino or amontillado, but inexplicably loses its veil of flor and begins aging oxidatively as an oloroso

NV Palo Cortado, Bodegas Tradición, 30 años (Jerez de la Frontera) 48

Oloroso is aged in the absence of flor, in an oxidative way. This style of sherry starts from a selection of heavier, more full-structured musts than a Fino. Usually it is produced from a second pressing of Palomino grapes.

Naturally sweet sherry can be produced from Pedro Ximénez or Moscatel grapes. They are harvested late and often dried in the sun before being pressed.
